HONOLULU WELCOMES POLLARD

Company Opens at the Bijou Theater Next Monday Night

The dress rehearsal of "Sergeant Brue" given last night revealed the fact that the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company is still the same high-class organization that has won for it great praise in two continents and created a furore during past visits in Honolulu.

The company is composed of talented young people who are artists in every sense of the word, who show professional training and experience and who are able to give a performance that is bound to receive commendation from the severest critic.

Aside from the completeness of the Pollard company as an organization, each and every individual member has a fine singing voice and is a good dancer, for Mrs. Chester had the pick of Australia to choose from and her judgment in these matters is thoroughly established.

Some of the company have grown up from little wee tots under her direction and won praise from Honolulu audiences when here before. Seeing these same now grown up, one is impressed with the improvement shown.

Pretty little Eva Pollard, who will be remembered as having made such a hit as the Salvation Army Girl, is now the leading ingenue of the company and in the part of Aurora, Sergeant Brue's daughter, has an opportunity to show her talent to advantage.

Teddy McNamara, the comedian, who as a youngster took us by storm before, is now a young man of twenty. He will be seen in the leading comedy roles.

There is also little Leslie Donohue, ets are going fast. There will certainly be a capacity house at the opening.

GREAT RAYMOND HAS 600 CHILDREN AS GUESTS

Six hundred orphans and poor children of the city are the guests of The Great Raymond this afternoon at a matinee performance given at the Liberty theatre by the marvellous illusionist. In inviting the children to be his guests, the wizard followed his invariable custom. On his record-breaking five-year tour of the world he has gladdened thousands of childish hearts by his generosity. He counts the children as among his most appreciative audiences.

MAN KEEPS HOUSE. WIFE WINS BREAD

He Weighs Heavily but Calls Washing, Cooking and Attending Baby Work

CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—When Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Danielson of Osgood street were confronted with the problem as to which of them should be the family breadwinner, they decided that as the wife had the greater earning capacity she should make the living. Isaac agreed to stay at home and do the cooking, dishwashing, mending and care for the baby.

Danielson, standing six feet in his stockings and tipping the scales at 197 pounds, donned an apron and for several months has performed the household duties. He was at the tub today doing the weekly washing and he offered to wager that not one man in a thousand realized how difficult is housework.

"I cook three meals each day, care for our little boy, Clifford, who is three years old, and keep the place tidy. I wash on Thursday. Then I scrub, wash windows and give the house a good general cleaning each Saturday. I find time in the afternoons to do most of my wife's shopping and help with odd jobs around the home in the evenings, and then it's nothing to do till tomorrow."

DAINTY COVERLET.

A very dainty coverlet for the baby carriage is crocheted of white worsted; tiny rosebuds are worked at intervals in ribbon embroidery, says the Newark News. The color effect is heightened by a lining of pink, was silk, a wide pink ribbon serving as a binding and border. Another coverlet has the roses done in cross-stitch on the background of single crochet.

"COLD FEET" SPOIL RECORD

Stocks Evince a Sudden Slump at the Close of the Week

Although the transactions on the Stock and Bond Exchange for the six-day period ended yesterday were more than $88,000 in excess of those for the corresponding period ended last week, the showing for the week ended at noon today is far less in excess of that of last calendar week. It is only $6514.75. This week's transactions totaled $256,853.50, against $250,338.75 for last week.

That one day should spoil a pretty record so badly is due to the fact that the community has another seizure of "cold feet," superinduced, as a coroner's jury would say, by the news from Washington the other day that the Democrats are going to force a fight on the sugar tariff in the Senate before adjournment of the present session.

There was only one sale on the board today, being 5 shares of Oahu at 27, which shows a slump of one and three-eighths points. From between boards were reported sales of 25 Onomea unchanged at 55.50, which is the asking price; 100 Waiwala at 125, an advance of a half point; 30 McBryde at 7.50, a decline of a quarter, 80 shares of Ewa at 11.75, a drop of half a point, 8 shares Oahu Railway unchanged at 140 and $8000 Hilo Railroad Extension 6s unchanged at 94.75.

Unless some high life be injected into the market, a dull and declining season may be anticipated.

GOOD TENNIS FOR PRELIMINARY ROUND

HE SIMPLY "WISHED"; SHE DID THE REST

Defaulting Cashier's Sweetheart Smilingly Tells How He Received Gifts

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 21.—"I never had to ask for anything. All I had to do was to 'wish' for what I wanted, and she gave it to me."

Harry Strawbridge, on trial charged with accepting $2500 from Miss Augusta Martin, the defaulting cashier of the Columbia Phonograph Company, daintily arranged the creases in his trousers legs, smiled and began to tell on the witness stand how he had "wished" for a diamond locket, a shirt stud, a trip to Denver, and for money for motor car repairs; how the money had come to him from Augusta Martin, his sweetheart, and how she had told him she was "happy to do it for his sake"; how she had confided to him that the money was hers by inheritance, and that it pleased her to pay for his meals and buy the theater tickets for both.

He then told how the memory of those happy hours had been blighted by the revelation that the Columbia Phonograph Company unconsciously had been paying for their pleasures.

"Wished" for a Locket. "In September, 1910, I 'wished' for a locket. Lo! and behold—soon it came, a diamond in it, and with my initials on it."

"We then became sweethearts. At Christmas she gave me a diamond stud. Then she gave me a ring."

"We lunched together and she gave me the money to pay for that and theater tickets. She always seemed to have a plenty. She gave me $50 on three different occasions to join the Masons, but I never joined."

"What did you do with this money she gave you to join?"

"I kept it."

Strawbridge testified that he did not know he had been implicated in the embezzlement by Miss Martin until three months after the shortage was found.

He was in New York at the time, studying music.

WON'T GIVE UP KEYS. SO LOCKS ARE CHANGED

VALLEJO, June 30.—As a result of the refusal of Albert H. Armstrong, who on Wednesday evening was dismissed as superintendent of schools of this city, to surrender duplicate key which he held of the office and school buildings of the city, the Board of Education has had new locks placed on all the buildings.

Following his dismissal, Armstrong turned over the keys of the building to Professor Carl Nelson, principal of the High School, who was appointed to act temporarily as superintendent of schools. It was ascertained that he had duplicate keys, and when the demand for them was refused, Chief of Police William T. Stanford was called in.

As there was no law under which Armstrong could be made to relinquish them, as he claimed that they were duplicates which he had made at his own expense, and to which he was therefore entitled, the board had all the locks changed.

Armstrong still maintains that the Board of Education cannot dismiss him, and that he has been appointed for the coming year, inasmuch as he was not served with notice before June 1 that his services were to be dispensed with. Under a ruling recently made, all teachers are to consider themselves re-elected if not served with such notice. It is claimed that the city superintendent does not come within this ruling.

HOW TO DETERMINE RABIES: KILL DOG

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—If your dog has negro bodies in the ganglion cell of the hippocampus he has a case of rabies, according to the State Board of Health. But to discover the presence of these negro bodies it is necessary to kill the dog and have a diagnosis made of his brain.

All this became known late yesterday when a report was filed with the board from the State Laboratory at Berkeley setting forth these facts concerning a dog which ran amuck in Sacramento a week ago and bit a man, a cat and several dogs before the police stopped his mad rush with a charge of buckshot.

The case is the first of rabies here. The dog reached the city by crossing the railroad bridge from Yolo county and succeeding in spreading the disease to other animals and possibly infecting a man, who is now undergoing the Pasteur treatment at the local State station.

Very often when I wanted to scallop a towel-end or pillow-slip I had not a pattern of the right size. I finally solved the problem in this manner, says a contributor to Needlecraft: If I want a one-inch scallop I take a strip of paper as long as the article to be embroidered is wide, fold one-half inch, and continue folding back and forth until the paper is entirely folded up; then I cut it rounding, beginning at the edge first turned, or single edge. Unfold the strip—and there is your pattern; you have only to trace it on your cloth. Scallops of any size can be made in this way.
